FRANCE READY TO REDUCE HER LAND STRENGTH, BRIAND SAYS

All Nations Make Statements at Open Session of Arms Conference Except Britain

BALFOUR IS DOUBTFUL

English Delegation Head Indicates Briand's Promise Does Not Go Far Enough

NO PROMISE TO CUT MADE

Italy Promises Reduction of Army, But Japan and America Are Now at Minimum

(By United Press)

Washington, Nov. 21.—France, with the world's largest army, is ready to make reduction in her fighting strength. With this official declaration by Premier Briand, the armament conference today planned discussion of the third major task, limitation of land armament.

The cut in the French army's effectiveness could be made, Briand said, through a bill decreasing the period of compulsory military training from three to one and one-half years.

France needs a strong army because of the Russian and German menace, the premier said.

Italy has an army of about 200,000 men and will make further reductions soon, Senator Schanza, her chief delegate said.

The United States with an army of 157,000 men is not faced with the question of limitation of land armament, Secretary Hughes said, indicating that the American delegates believe this country's land force has been cut to the minimum.

Baron Kato stated that Japan's army was cut to the lowest point consistent with the nation's safety.

Great Britain did not promise any definite reduction in her army.

Belgium, Baron Becaeter said, had already reduced her army to the minimum considering her national security.

All the nations expressed something of France, but Balfour of Great Britain said Briand's speech was not hopeful for any solution of the land armament.

Balfour indicated that he did not believe Briand's promise of reduction in her fighting strength was sufficient to make possible an important limitation of land armament.

Hughes expressed the hope that a solution of the land armament question could be reached if it was referred to a committee.

The naval limitation question is "progressing favorably" Hughes reported to the conference, opening the meeting. He said "there is nothing at the moment to report to the plenary session" either as to naval armaments or Far East questions, but that "our expectations in both are being realized".

Going directly to the question on land armaments Hughes said that while the U. S. had been able to reduce to less than 160,000 men this government realizes conditions abroad, and understands the apprehensions and their causes, which have prevented other nations like wise reducing their land forces. The fullest discussion of the question is invited by the U. S., he said.

"Are you ready to proceed to a discussion of this question? Hughes asked and sat down.

As Hughes concluded, Briand arose.

He spoke amid intense stillness.

Nothing would be more agreeable to my colleagues and I plan to bring you promise of great sacrifice on the part of France", Briand said in French.

"Unhappily we are not able. Unhappily, we have not the right. I am here to explain the position of France. To make peace, it is not merely sufficient to reduce armaments. There is another matter. We must create what I would call an 'atmosphere of peace'.

"What is the situation in Europe today? Grave! I am of a country where many men have reason to know of the danger. They poured

British Would Join U. S. in War Against Japan

London, Nov. 21.—Great Britain would be certain to join the United States in the event of a war between America and Japan, the Times declared today in demanding abrogation of the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

The Daily Express also urged Japan to yield to Hughes' program for limitation of naval armament.

The Times asked editorially whether Japan does not think it would be wise to abandon the Anglo-Japanese alliance in view of the fact that war between Great Britain and the United States is possible. The News stated that in event of hostilities between the U. S. and Japan, there was a "strong possibility" that some British dominions would find it impossible taking sides against Japan, adding "when one part of the empire is at war, all is at war and we would be dragged in, however much against our will."

CHINA TO SEEK OPEN DISCUSSION

Will Press Arms Conference For Decision on "Details" Mentioned By Japan

ELIHU ROOT MAY SPEAK

Expected to Represent The United States in the Far Eastern Discussions

By CARL D. GROAT
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Nov. 21.—China's delegation will try to thwart Japan's openly expressed desire for side-tracking "details" in the Far Eastern conference.

Seeing what they call a Japanese effort to escape the washing of soiled diplomatic linen, the Chinese let it be known today in advance of the Far Eastern committee session at four o'clock that they will soon press for open discussion of a number of "details" such as the Shantung, Manchurian and secret treaty questions.

An important statement regarding the American attitude to several phases of the Far Eastern question may be made at the committee meeting it was learned.

Eli Root may speak for the U. S. on the Far East. Though the Japanese have noted a readiness to meet the problem, the request for curtailing the debate as far as possible was considered by the Chinese an attempt to "let matters drag." The Chinese however, declared that several of these subjects are such as to make their position like "sitting on a tack."

Secretary of State Hughes as chairman will have the say whether to open up sensitive topics or not. The Chinese believe he will share their viewpoint especially in the matter of illuminating a number of ticklish secret treaties and commitments. The Chinese said they would not be content to have such questions deferred.

They expressed themselves as satisfied with Kato's friendly assurance toward China "as far as it went" but contended Japan's position on Shantung and Manchuria, at least must be elucidated before the delegates are overcom with joy at Japan's words.

The delegation reiterated officially its denial that the ten Chinese principles were America's program. It is known however America was agreeable to having China present its platform instead of having Hughes take the initiative as with disarmament.

NOVEMBER TERM GETS UNDER WAY

Circuit Court Convenes Today And a Number of Cases Are Settled And Dismissed

TWO JUDGMENTS ALLOWED

Defendants Default in Foreclosure and Account Suits—Milroy Case Set For Tuesday

Circuit court convened this morning upon the November term, and the usual routine of business for the first day was transacted in which the attorneys gathered, and the issues were arranged for the coming term, which resulted in several cases being dismissed.

The case for tomorrow of Hiram B. Wilson and Wylie McKee against the Metal Specialties Company, of Milroy, will be tried without the services of a jury, it was decided this morning. The suit is to collect on notes.

Two cases were heard this morning and judgment rendered when the defendants in each case defaulted. The case of Frank C. George against Vern W. Bell and Edward C. Bell was heard and judgment amounting to $67.34 was awarded the plaintiff on a complaint to foreclose a garage lien.

The other case which was heard was William Kuecht against Frank Keith, and judgment in the sum of $108.64 was rendered the plaintiff on an account which was found to be over due.

Alvan Clark was arraigned on a charge of contempt for not making payment following a divorce, and he was ordered to report again in court on November 26.

The cases which were dismissed from the docket were as follows:

George C. Alexander and Virgil Maffett, against Thomas H. Stout, et al

DEATHBED WORDS IN THE EVIDENCE

Statement of Miss Virginia Rappe Presented in Trial of Fatty Arbuckle Today

AN ORDEAL FOR DEFENDANT

San Francisco, Calif., Nov. 21.—The voice of Virginia Rappe, alleged victim of Roscoe Arbuckle, came from her grave today to accuse her alleged slayer, as the death bed statement in which she declared that the fat film comedian to be responsible for her fatal injury, was presented by the prosecution.

Arbuckle was confronted with the most trying ordeal he has undergone since the trial opened on the charge of manslaughter. He kept his famous film smile firmly set as the words of the death bed statement was brought up in court.

"Arbuckle hurt me", the last word of the dying actress, were reiterated by nurses who attended her in her final moments.

A crowd stormed the court room long before the doors opened eager to see Arbuckle as the central figure in a real live tragedy.

REMONSTRANCE IS SUSTAINED

Commissioners Rule That Hodge's Branch Shall Not be Improved At This Time

PETITIONERS TO APPEAL

Agitation Reported to be Started to Make A Tile Ditch Out of The Drain

The county board of commissioners has ruled that the Moore drain, better known as Hodge's branch, which runs through the northwestern part of the city, shall not be improved, and the ditch will not be broadened and deepened unless the petitioners win in the higher courts.

It was announced today that Geo. B. Moore, Jr., and others, who filed the petition, would appeal from the decision of the commissioners to the circuit court.

The commissioners inspected the drain Saturday and late in the afternoon announced that they would find for the remonstrators, who objected to proposed assessments which were to be levied against the abutting property owners in case the improvement was ordered.

The specific finding has not been entered in the commissioners' minutes of their meeting, and it was said today that the entry would be made upon agreement of attorneys for both sides. The only record of the hearing is that the remonstrators were sustained.

It was said today that agitation was being started to convert the ditch into a closed drain by installing sewer pipe and filling it up.

The petition for the deepening and broadening of the branch was filed, because of the damage which is caused once or twice each year at flood time when the stream overflows. There are suits pending now, which were filed by property owners living in the vicinity of the branch, to collect damages done by the water.

It is not known how the commissioners reached their decision in sustaining the remonstrance because two different allegations were set up in the remonstrance. One alleged that the benefits to be derived from the improvement were not equal to the estimated cost as revealed by the proposed assessments which were filed by the viewers. The other allegation was that many of the abutting property owners would be damaged instead of benefited by the improvement.

NEW DRY REGULATIONS ABOUT TO BE ORDERED

Recent Orders Greatly Liberalizing Restrictions on Liquor For Medicinal Use Wiped Out

A PINT EACH 10 DAY LIMIT

(By United Press)

Washington, Nov. 21.—A sweeping revision of the prohibition bureau regulations and forms regulating the distribution of whiskey and other spirits for medicinal use is about to be ordered by the treasury department, it was learned today.

The new regulations and forms greatly liberalizing restriction on liquor for medicinal use on all intoxicating beverages, were wiped out or modified so they will conform to the Volstead law as written, and there will be no attempt to interpret this statute on a restriction basis.

The treasury department officials are not in sympathy with the present interpretation. The present regulations of the prohibition office not only restrict the physicians to limit the requirement of not more than one pint in any ten days to one patient, but limits the number of prescriptions which may be issued over a month's period.

WOMAN PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Mrs. Aileen Smiley entered a plea of not guilty this afternoon to two charges in Justice Stech's court, which were preferred by Mrs. Lydia Turner. The charges were for profanity and for surety of peace. The necessary peace bond was provided and the cases will be heard Dec. 2.

ONLY FEW DAYS ARE LEFT FOR ROLL CALL

Intensive Campaign to Enlist Red Cross Members Before Thanksgiving Starts Today

CITY CANVASSERS NAMED

Few Reports Received at Headquarters Indicate That Little Has Been Accomplished

An intensive campaign was started today to close the Red Cross Roll Call in Rush county by Thursday, Thanksgiving Day. The appeal opened on Armistice day, but according to reports which have been received at headquarters very little has been accomplished by the canvassers throughout the county.

Some few city solicitors have covered their territory in Rushville, according to Warder Wyatt, city chairman, but only one has reported to headquarters. The city chairman today, in announcing the names of the canvassers in Rushville, urged that they visit all of the houses in their respective districts at once and close up the campaign.

What with the county chapter of the Red Cross employing a nurse for permanent duty, and with the assistance that is constantly being given ex-service men by the home service division of the chapter, it is felt that the organization in this county is performing a real service and deserves to be supported. The membership fee is only one dollar a year.

An example of the functioning of the home service division was seen today when a former soldier, who said he was a truck driver during the war, appeared at headquarters and said that he had not had anything to

FIRST STEPS TO AID FARMERS TAKEN TODAY

Gov. McCray Meets Indiana Members of War Finance Corporation to Discuss Corn Loans

BANKERS MEETING PROPOSED

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 21.—Steps to finance Indiana farmers so they can hold their corn until the market is relieved was taken by Governor Warren T. McCray today.

Acting as chairman of the corn belt advisory committee recently named by the war finance corporation, the governor met three local members of the corporation this afternoon to discuss financial relief.

The governor will propose that representative farmers and bankers be called together with the purpose of arranging loans for the farmers with their corn crop as collateral.

This would enable the farmers to hold their crop until the prices have become stabilized. The governor announced also plans to meet the full membership of the committee in Chicago at the International Livestock Exposition which opens November 26, advancing the same kind of proposal at that time as aid to farmers of the entire corn belt.

out their blood like water. They have seen murderers. They know asphyxiating gas. They know the danger."

"The war ended," he continued. "The peace was signed. Germany was disarmed. Her war materials were taken. Why then does France fear?"

This, he said, he knew to be the view of America.

France is still in the grip of a cruel necessity to defend herself, Briand said.

"We would still fear if we had not confidence in a providence which looks after the destinies of our country," he said.

The French premier pointed to picture of France, unarmored faced by a hostile Germany. He was cheered as he pictured the danger.

A wish that the two people of France and Germany, could live side by side, in peace was expressed by Briand, with great emotion.

MOTHER! CLEAN

CHILD'S BOWELS WITH CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, give a teaspoonful to cleanse the liver and bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

TIME BEING SPENT IN DISCUSSION

Delegates to Conference Suggesting Modification Which May or May Not Alter Principles

DEMAND TWO MODIFICATIONS

U. S. Anxious as Great Britain to Abolish Weapon of War and Reduce Defensive Weapons

BY WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN
Copyright 1921 by U. P.

Washington, Nov. 21.—Discussion is the beginning of agreement and the time is now being spent in discussion.

There is a commendable frankness in the proceedings. Recognizing the difference between a principle and a detail, the delegates are suggesting modifications which may or may not alter the principle.

Two of these modifications demand consideration at the present time.

First, Great Britain suggests a decrease in the submarine tonnage required and the elimination of the long distance submarine. There is a great deal of force in this suggestion and when it is whipped into shape it will in all probability result in the suppression of all submarines intended for offensive purposes.

As an inexpensive weapon of defense, nothing has ever equalled the submarine unless it be the bomb-dropping airplane, and it is not likely that the final agreement will weaken the defensive power of any nation.

The United States is as anxious as Great Britain to abolish every offensive weapon of war and to reduce to the lowest possible point the defensive weapons.

Japan is likely to agree with the United States in favoring a sufficient defensive armament.

If the provision suggested can be confined to defensive work there will be little objection, because no nation is likely to burden itself with unnecessary defensive preparation.

It is the offensive armament that has aroused the ire of the world and this armament whether it be on land or sea must be put in process of extinction.

The British suggestion in regard to giving ship yards enough work to maintain the organization does not strike a responsive chord.

For a generation before the late war the din of the munition factories drowned the voice of conscience; now that the conscience has asserted itself, it ought not to be drowned by the riveting of armor on battleships. To those who witnesses the impressive ceremony at Arlington, where the unknown soldier was laid to rest in the presence of the representatives of the world, nothing was more impressive than the two minutes of silent prayer.

The world needs the same stillness today in the navy yards—a quiet that will permit the world to meditate undisturbed upon the horrors of war and to seek the pathway that leads to universal and perpetual peace.

The naval holiday, if it is to be of value, must be real. "Peace be still" once calmed the sea, why not use the command to quiet the yards out of which come the ships that give to the sea a fury greater than that stirred by the deadliest storm.

Mrs. Will Stout, Cor. N. Oliver & 10th Sts., says: "I can certainly say a good word for Doan's Kidney Pills for they have done wonders for me when I have used them. You Need More Than Good Fitting "Good Fitting" is a mere phrase unless you buy shoes that are basically right in design and construction to afford the correct natural foot support. It's the ordinary shoe with its sagging arch that causes foot aches and pains. Arch Preserver Shoes, with the built-in arch bridge, give real comfort, because they eliminate all strain. They are in good style, too, always having a smart, clean-cut appearance. Why don't you find out about real foot happiness?

Indianapolis Woman Says They Thought She Couldn't Last Much Longer

"I was in bed so weak and helpless that none of my friends thought I could last much longer; and I don't believe I would, either, if I hadn't gotten hold of this grand Tanlae when I did," said Mrs. F. Cook, No. 3, Bungalow Park, Indianapolis, Ind.

"My recovery is all the more remarkable since at my age, seventy, one is not expected to have much power of recuperation. Tanlae has done what was thought to be absolutely impossible and I feel just fine now.

"My whole system seemed to give way and I had to take to my bed. I had to be propped up and given the first dose of Tanlae, as I was not strong enough to take it myself, but here I am well and strong again. It is simply marvelous."

Apostles of Bad Faith
In the first enthusiasm at the assembling of the arms conference the voices of the doubters and disturbers outside were over whelmed. As the conference settles down to discussion and the inevitable differences of opinion develop, the pack begins to yelp with more hope of being heard. An evil hint appears here as to the animus of some nation or individual; a cavalier appears there to scoff by word of mouth or on the printed page at the honesty of the purpose of the entire body or to show with cunning sneers or pessimistic theories that its announced purpose is impossible. When these apostles of bad faith and disbelief begin to disseminate their doctrines it is time for all people who want to live at peace with their neighbors and who believe it can be done to "hold fast to the faith that is in them". The conference was called in good faith. The delegates of the great nations have assembled with the honest intention of making world peace practical. The majority of the people of the world want peace. These are the facts. If the people hold to them, their representatives will hold to them, and the falsities of the cynic and the mischief-maker will be voiced in vain.

Amnesty For War Prisoners
A correspondent tells of asking a high naval officer in Washington what he thought about a pardon for Debs. He answered: "Well, it seems to me that the war has been over so long by this time that almost everybody ought to be pardoned. And I think that goes for pretty nearly everybody in the service that I know". Army men are said to feel the same way about it. As for civilians, there is no question of their attitude. The war has been over technically for four months and actually for three years. Passions have cooled down and the necessity for rigor has passed. Most of the prisoners, soldiers, sailors or civilians, were sentenced to preserve the morale of the army, navy or public in wartime. Peace has its own morale, which demands normal justice, with an admixture of generosity. Those who committed real crimes during the war—deed which would have incurred severe penalties at any time—must have their punishment take its normal course. But most of the war offenses, particularly in the service, were pretty or technical violations of military rule. Is it not time for a general amnesty?

Just when it appears that Lloyd George will be able to attend the arms parley, a new riot breaks out at Belfast.

It doesn't look like Henry Ford would have to get the arms conference delegates out of the trenches by Christmas.

King Alexander of Serbia is completing a new palace, which would seem to be a bad investment in view of the disregard for the rights of kings, which appears to exist in Europe.

Muncie Ind., Nov. 21.—Because Harry Michaels, city controller, was on a hunting trip last Tuesday and failed to pay interest on a loan of $45,000 for the city which was due on that day, the city council in special session voted that a formal request should be made to Mayor Kelley that he remove the controller from office and an effort will be made to have Michaels pay the interest out of his own pocket.

AMUSEMENTS

Bebe Daniels at the Princess
Every kind of speed—on a side-walkscooter, on horseback, in fast motor cars on land, in faster planes in the air—is used to illustrate the theme of Bebe Daniel's newest Real-art picture, "The Speed Girl", by Elmer Harris, which is showing at the Princess today and Tuesday. Fortunately, the feature has for its star one of the most versatile girls in pictures. Miss Daniels has been brought up an outdoor girl. Dedicated from her youth to the business of entertaining the public, she had to learn to ride, to drive a car, to dive, swim, shoot, fish and play every sort of game.

Particularly in moving-pictures, an actress never knows when she will be called upon to do any one of these things, and to do it in an accomplished manner. In other words, play has to be an important branch of Miss Daniel's work, and often she has been taking lessons from a tennis champion or practicing strokes with a golf or swimming professional when, if her preference had ruled, she would have been curled up in a corner, reading or—just curled up in a corner!

"It is the age of speed!" says Miss Daniels. "In their entertainment, their sports, their business, even in their love affairs, it seems the American man, woman and child demands ever a swifter pace. 'Make it snappy—get there!' is the universal cry."

"Seriously, we may have to change all this at some not-distant time, and modify our speed—put on the brake a bit. But for the present there is no sign of abating, and the moving picture must, if it does anything, reflect life as it is."

"Salvage" at the Mystic
The "big whigs" of society never frivoleed at a more elaborate banquet than that staged for an episode in "Salvage", Pauline Frederick's latest Robertson-Cole production, now at the Mystic Theatre today and Tuesday.

This banquet which is the opening of the story, is given in honor of Cyrus Ridgeway, a retired capitalist, and his bride Bernice (played by Miss Frederick) upon their return from an extended European trip. The scene takes place in the banquet hall of the Ridgeway mansion, one of the most beautiful settings in the production, with its heavily carpeted floor, massive hand-carved walnut furniture, soft grey walls hung with genuine oil paintings, lighted by myriads of tiny lights suspended from the ceiling and projecting from the side-walls. Scores of smartly dressed men and women as guests are seated about a long table, heaped high with pink and white sweet-peas, roses and delicate ferns.

Pauline Frederick is seen in a dual role as Bernice Ridgeway, a splendid type of American womanhood, highly idealistic and passionately fond of children; and as Kate Martin, a woman who follows the line of least resistance, a moral weakling who begrudges the time she must devote to caring for her little daughter and who gradually slides down the social scale until she becomes a drug addict.

TO MEET CUMBERLAND
IN TURKEY DAY GAME

Arlington Athletic Club in Last Contest on Home Grounds Next Thursday

BEACH IS OUT OF THE GAME

The Arlington Athletic Club will meet the Cumberland football team Thursday at Arlington, and the Thanksgiving Day contest is predicted to be a real gridiron battle. The visiting team is heavy and has but one defeat this season, that being by an Indianapolis team.

Arlington will be in good shape for this game with the exception of Lowell Beach, who will not be able to play on account of a sprained wrist, which he sustained at Shelbyville. The Arlington band will probably furnish the music, and the contest will be the last one of the season on the home grounds. The final game will be played at Greensburg on November 27.

Odd Fellows Basketball Team Will Meet Sandusky Here

A record crowd is expected to be on hands tomorrow night when the I. O. O. F. basketball team opens the season with Sandusky, in the Modern Appliance gymnasium, which has undergone a complete change this summer, and the local team is in first class condition for the opening game. The I. O. O. F. band will head a parade tomorrow night, leaving the business district at seven o'clock, and music also will be provided by the band at the gymnasium.

A curtain raiser will be played between the St. Mary's school team and some other team, and this game will begin at 7:15 so that the big contest can be started at eight o'clock.

NO DOUBT ABOUT THE CHAMPIONS

Penn State in The East, Iowa in the West, California on Coast and Centre in South

SOME DISPUTE ABOUT FORMER

Cornell, Lafayette and Washington and Jefferson Undeclared—Notre Dame Runner-up

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(By United Press)

New York, Nov. 21—Whose who in football is now fairly well established. Penn State in the East, Iowa in the west, California on the coast and Centre in the south.

There may be some dispute about this. Cornell, Lafayette and Washington and Jefferson are undeclared in the east, but they haven't played the schedule that Penn State so far has gotten away with.

Some contend, who have been seen western football that Notre Dame today is as strong as the undefeated Iowa eleven, but the fact remains that Notre Dame lost to Iowa.

The situation on the coast is clear. California is out and out the champion and perhaps the greatest team developed on the Pacific seaboard—perhaps the greatest team in the country.

Georgia Tech may argue over any effort to crown Centre but Centre beat Harvard, Harvard tied Penn State and Penn State walloped Tech.

With the exception of a few scattered games on Thanksgiving day, the Army-Navy game Saturday and a few intersectional games, the 1921 season is over.

If Penn State defeats Pittsburgh on Thursday the great state team will go against the University of Washington on Dec. 3 as the undisputed king of the east. It is too bad that Washington hasn't a better rating on the coast.

However, an east coast game, now looms up that should be a treat for the foot-ball gods—California against Notre Dame.

Yale was in line for an invitation to go to Pasadena until Harvard downed the Blue Saturday. Now it is understood that Notre Dame which is regarded in the east as one of the greatest eleven of years will be invited to take the laurel across the continent for the New Year's classic of the east. Notre Dame is not against travelling and Notre Dame is proud of that team. If the invitation comes Notre Dame is almost sure to go.

CARTHAGE LOSES ROUGH ONE

Yankee Five Is Defeated at Blue Ridge With Two Regulars Out

The Carthage Yankee Five lost Saturday night to the Blue Ridge Independents at Blue Ridge, by the score of 36 to 14. The Carthage team was crippled by not having Bertsch and Simmonds in the game. Carthage had previously defeated Blue Ridge by a score of 50 to 18, and it is believed that they would have repeated Saturday night, if they had had their regular line-up. The game was a rough and tumble affair. Carthage will next play the Sandusky team at Carthage on Thursday night.

Locals Make Hit
At Martinsville

The Rushville high school basketball team received nothing but praise from the Daily Reporter at Martinsville, as the result of the game played between the two teams in that city Friday night, in which the locals lost by a 25 to 15 count, after holding the fast team on even terms throughout the game.

The newspaper account states that it was the best game played there in years, and that the two teams are evenly matched. Coach Curtis, who formerly taught, in Rushville, also praised the local team, and stated that his team had not been up against such a stiff proposition in two years.

Following are some of the high spots in the account, which show that Martinsville thinks considerable of the Rushville team:

Rushville has a real back guard in Frazee. He is the best that has been seen here in a long time. He has the size, and what is more he knows how to play basketball. It is no trouble for him to get the ball from under his goal and work it down out of the danger zone.

Rushville had more open shots than Martinsville but they were unable to put the ball through the basket with any regularity. Martinsville suffered from that trouble to a certain extent, but most of Martinsville's goals were caged under difficulties.

Casady and Sparks, forwards, Headlee, center, and Phillips and Frazee, guards, make a combination for Rushville that will place that team way up in state basketball circles before the season ends. They are a fast bunch to travel after.

A see-saw game such as that of Friday night with the lead changing back and forth, was the kind that put pep into the fans and made them "root" with all their might. The game was a thriller and will not be soon forgotten by Martinsville fans.

Headlee and Casady edged the most goals for Rushville while Hite and Harper had that honor for Martinsville. But the goals made by the other boys helped considerably.

Rushville had the better of Martinsville in free shots, securing three points on foul goals while Martinsville landed only one point by that route.

GLENWOOD-WEBB WEDNESDAY

Glenwood and Webb will meet in basketball Wednesday night at Glenwood, and both teams are confident of winning the game. Glenwood has been going good this season, and have hopes of downing their fast opponents, which also have been winning most of the games this year. Glenwood will probably line-up with Vandiver and Fielding, forwards; Daily, center; Hinchman and McComell, guards; the Webb school will also start with the following line-up: Talbert and Hilligoss, forwards; Meyers, center; Hurst and Hill, guards.

TO HOLD TO THE ONE GREAT ISSUE

America Has Sharply Called Halt on Efforts to Broaden or Amend Limitation of Armaments

WANT YES OR NO ANSWER

Want Japan and Britain to Stop Naval Competition or State Frankly They Are Not Ready to

By LAWRENCE MARTIN
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Nov. 21.—The United States has served notice that it will hold the arms conference to the one great issue involved—limitation of armaments.

It has sharply called a halt on efforts to broaden or amend that issue. It has demanded that Japan and Great Britain squarely meet questions either by agreeing to stop naval competition right now or by stating frankly that they are not ready to go to that extent in putting a check on the principal cause of war.

This is the meaning of a significant statement made to newspapermen by an authorized spokesman for this government.

If the statement of the American position is not sufficient, Secretary Hughes taking advantage of the dominant position his opening speech to the conference has given him, will plainly tell the conference:

1—That the United States is not going to dicker, bargain or trade over its proposals for limiting naval armaments.

2—That the American plan is based upon the principal that the speediest and most certain way to limit armaments is to call an immediate halt in naval competition.

3—That the American proposals represent the conclusions of qualified experts and the considered judgment of the American government and are regarded by this government as not only fair, but exceedingly generous.

The Japanese counter proposal is believed to have asked not only for an increase in Japan's capital ship tonnage, but to have stated that in a certain type of vessel of strictly defensive character, Japan wants to approximate the tonnage of the greater navies.

It is now known that this type of vessel was not the light cruiser or the submarine, as was first supposed.

However, what vessel is referred to is still a mystery.

FRANCE READY TO REDUCE HER LAND STRENGTH, BRIAND SAYS

All Nations Make Statements at Open Session of Arms Conference
Except Britain

BALFOUR IS DOUBTFUL

English Delegation Head Indicates
Briand's Promise Does Not Go Far Enough

NO PROMISE TO CUT MADE

Italy Promises Reduction of Army,
But Japan and America Are Now at Minimum

(By United Press)

Washington, Nov. 21.—France, with the world's largest army, is ready to make reduction in her fighting strength. With this official declaration by Premier Briand, the armament conference today planned discussion of the third major task, limitation of land armament.

The cut in the French army's effectiveness could be made, Briand said, through a bill decreasing the period of compulsory military training from three to one and one-half years.

France needs a strong army because of the Russian and German menace, the premier said.

Italy has an army of about 200,000 men and will make further reductions soon, Senator Schanza, her chief delegate said.

The United States with an army of 157,000 men is not faced with the question of limitation of land armament, Secretary Hughes said, indicating that the American delegates believe this country's land force has been cut to the minimum.

Baron Kato stated that Japan's army was cut to the lowest point consistent with the nation's safety. Great Britain did not promise any definite reduction in her army.

Belgium, Baron Becquerel said, had already reduced her army to the minimum considering her national security.

All the nations expressed something of France, but Balfour of Great Britain said Briand's speech was not hopeful for any solution of the land armament.

Balfour indicated that he did not believe Briand's promise of reduction in her fighting strength was sufficient to make possible an important limitation of land armament.

Hughes expressed the hope that a solution of the land armament question could be reached if it was referred to a committee.

The naval limitation question is "progressing favorably," Hughes reported to the conference, opening the meeting. He said "there is nothing at the moment to report to the plenary session" either as to naval armaments or Far East questions, but that "our expectations in both are being realized."

Going directly to the question on land armaments Hughes said that while the U. S. had been able to reduce to less than 160,000 men this government realizes conditions abroad, and understands the apprehensions and their causes, which have prevented other nations like wise reducing their land forces. The fullest discussion of the question is invited by the U. S., he said.

"Are you ready to proceed to a discussion of this question?" Hughes asked and sat down.

As Hughes concluded, Briand arose.

He spoke amid intense stillness. Nothing would be more agreeable to my colleagues and I plan to bring you promise of great sacrifice on the part of France," Briand said in French.

"Unhappily we are not able. Unhappily, we have not the right. I am here to explain the position of France. To make peace, it is not merely sufficient to reduce armaments. There is another matter. We must create what I would call an 'atmosphere of peace'.

"What is the situation in Europe today? Grave! I am of a country where many men have reason to know of the danger. They poured

British Would Join U. S. in War Against Japan

London, Nov. 21.—Great Britain would be certain to join the United States in the event of a war between America and Japan, the Times declared today in demanding abrogation of the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

The Daily Express also urged Japan to yield to Hughes' program for limitation of naval armament.

The Times asked editorially whether Japan does not think it would be wise to abandon the Anglo-Japanese alliance in view of the fact that war between Great Britain and the United States is possible. The News stated that in event of hostilities between the U. S. and Japan, there was a "strong possibility" that some British dominions would find it impossible taking sides against Japan, adding "when one part of the empire is at war, all is at war and we would be dragged in, however much against our will."

CHINA TO SEEK OPEN DISCUSSION

Will Press Arms Conference For Decision on "Details" Mentioned
By Japan

ELIHU ROOT MAY SPEAK

Expected to Represent The United States in the Far Eastern Discussions

By CARL D. GROAT
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Nov. 21.—China's delegation will try to thwart Japan's openly expressed desire for side-tracking "details" in the Far Eastern conference.

Seeing what they call a Japanese effort to escape the washing of soiled diplomatic linen, the Chinese let it be known today in advance of the Far Eastern committee session at four o'clock that they will soon press for open discussion of a number of "details" such as the Shantung, Manchurian and secret treaty questions.

An important statement regarding the American attitude to several phases of the Far Eastern question may be made at the committee meeting it was learned.

Eli Root may speak for the U. S. on the Far East. Though the Japanese have noted a readiness to meet the problem, the request for curtailing the debate as far as possible was considered by the Chinese an attempt to "let matters drag." The Chinese however, declared that several of these subjects are such as to make their position like "sitting on a tack."

Secretary of State Hughes as chairman will have the say whether to open up sensitive topics or not. The Chinese believe he will share their viewpoint especially in the matter of illuminating a number of ticklish secret treaties and commitments. The Chinese said they would not be content to have such questions deferred.

They expressed themselves as satisfied with Kato's friendly assurance toward China "as far as it went" but contended Japan's position on Shantung and Manchuria, at least must be elucidated before the delegates are overcom with joy at Japan's words.

The delegation reiterated officially its denial that the ten Chinese principles were America's program. It is known however America was agreeable to having China present its platform instead of having Hughes take the initiative as with disarmament.

NOVEMBER TERM GETS UNDER WAY

Circuit Court Convenes Today And a Number of Cases Are Settled
And Dismissed

TWO JUDGMENTS ALLOWED

Defendants Default in Foreclosure and Account Suits—Milroy
Case Set For Tuesday

Circuit court convened this morning upon the November term, and the usual routine of business for the first day was transacted in which the attorneys gathered, and the issues were arranged for the coming term, which resulted in several cases being dismissed.

The case for tomorrow of Hiram B. Wilson and Wylie McKee against the Metal Specialties Company, of Milroy, will be tried without the services of a jury, it was decided this morning. The suit is to collect on notes.

Two cases were heard this morning and judgment rendered when the defendants in each case defaulted. The case of Frank C. George against Vern W. Bell and Edward C. Bell was heard and judgment amounting to $47.34 was awarded the plaintiff on a complaint to foreclose a garage lien.

The other case which was heard was William Knecht against Frank Keith, and judgment in the sum of $108.64 was rendered the plaintiff on an account which was found to be over due.

Alvan Clark was arraigned on a charge of contempt for not making payment following a divorce, and he was ordered to report again in court on November 26.

The cases which were dismissed from the docket were as follows:

George C. Alexander and Virgil Mallett, against Thomas H. Stout, et

DEATHBED WORDS IN THE EVIDENCE

Statement of Miss Virginia Rappe
Presented in Trial of Fatty Arbuckle Today

AN ORDEAL FOR DEFENDANT

San Francisco, Calif., Nov. 21.—The voice of Virginia Rappe, alleged victim of Roscoe Arbuckle, came from her grave today to accuse her alleged slayer, as the death bed statement in which she declared that the fat film comedian to be responsible for her fatal injury, was presented by the prosecution.

Arbuckle was confronted with the most trying ordeal he has undergone since the trial opened on the charge of manslaughter. He kept his famous film smile firmly set as the words of the death bed statement was brought up in court.

"Arbuckle hurt me," the last word of the dying actress, were reiterated by nurses who attended her in her final moments.

A crowd stormed the court room long before the doors opened eager to see Arbuckle as the central figure in a real live tragedy.

REMONSTRANCE IS SUSTAINED

Commissioners Rule That Hodge's
Branch Shall Not be Improved
At This Time

PETITIONERS TO APPEAL

Agitation Reported to be Started to Make A Tile Ditch Out of The Drain

The county board of commissioners has ruled that the Moore drain, better known as Hodge's branch, which runs through the northwestern part of the city, shall not be improved, and the ditch will not be broadened and deepened unless the petitioners win in the higher courts.

It was announced today that Geo. B. Moore, Jr., and others, who filed the petition, would appeal from the decision of the commissioners to the circuit court.

The commissioners inspected the drain Saturday and late in the afternoon announced that they would find for the remonstrators, who objected to proposed assessments which were to be levied against the abutting property owners in case the improvement was ordered.

The specific finding has not been entered in the commissioners' minutes of their meeting, and it was said today that the entry would be made upon agreement of attorneys for both sides. The only record of the hearing is that the remonstrators were sustained.

It was said today that agitation was being started to convert the ditch into a closed drain by installing sewer pipe and filling it up.

The petition for the deepening and broadening of the branch was filed, because of the damage which is caused once or twice each year at flood time when the stream overflows. There are suits pending now, which were filed by property owners living in the vicinity of the branch, to collect damages done by the water.

It is not known how the commissioners reached their decision in sustaining the remonstrance because two different allegations were set up in the remonstrance. One alleged that the benefits to be derived from the improvement were not equal to the estimated cost as revealed by the proposed assessments which were filed by the viewers. The other allegation was that many of the abutting property owners would be damaged instead of benefited by the improvement.

NEW DRY REGULATIONS ABOUT TO BE ORDERED

Recent Orders Greatly Liberalizing Restrictions on Liquor For Medicinal Use Wiped Out

A PINT EACH 10 DAY LIMIT

(By United Press)

Washington, Nov. 21.—A sweeping revision of the prohibition bureau regulations and forms regulating the distribution of whiskey and other spirits for medicinal use is about to be ordered by the treasury department, it was learned today.

The new regulations and forms greatly liberalizing restriction on liquor for medicinal use on all intoxicating beverages, were wiped out or modified so they will conform to the Volstead law as written, and there will be no attempt to interpret this statute on a restriction basis.

The treasury department officials are not in sympathy with the present interpretation. The present regulations of the prohibition office not only restrict the physicians to limit the requirement of not more than one pint in any ten days to one patient, but limits the number of prescriptions which may be issued over a month's period.

WOMAN PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Mrs. Aileen Smiley entered a plea of not guilty this afternoon to two charges in Justice Stech's court, which were preferred by Mrs. Lydia Turner. The charges were for profanity and for surety of peace. The necessary peace bond was provided and the cases will be heard Dec. 2.

Who Died Saturday

Mrs. White had been ill for a month previous to her death. She formerly lived in Richmond and came to Carthage seven years ago to reside with her sister. Besides the sister, the deceased is survived by five step-children.

ONLY FEW DAYS ARE LEFT FOR ROLL CALL

Intensive Campaign to Enlist Red Cross Members Before Thanksgiving Starts Today

CITY CANVASSERS NAMED

Few Reports Received at Headquarters Indicate That Little Has Been Accomplished

An intensive campaign was started today to close the Red Cross Roll Call in Rush county by Thursday, Thanksgiving Day. The appeal opened on Armistice day, but according to reports which have been received at headquarters very little has been accomplished by the canvassers throughout the county.

Some few city solicitors have covered their territory in Rushville, according to Warder Wyatt, city chairman, but only one has reported to headquarters. The city chairman today, in announcing the names of the canvassers in Rushville, urged that they visit all of the houses in their respective districts at once and close up the campaign.

What with the county chapter of the Red Cross employing a nurse for permanent duty, and with the assistance that is constantly being given ex-service men by the home service division of the chapter, it is felt that the organization in this county is performing a real service and deserves to be supported. The membership fee is only one dollar a year.

An example of the functioning of the home service division was seen today when a former soldier, who said he was a truck driver during the war, appeared at headquarters and said that he had not had anything to

FIRST STEPS TO AID FARMERS TAKEN TODAY

Gov. McCray Meets Indiana Members of War Finance Corporation to Discuss Corn Loans

BANKERS MEETING PROPOSED

Indianapolis, In., Nov. 21.—Steps to finance Indiana farmers so they can hold their corn until the market is relieved was taken by Governor Warren T. McCray today.

Acting as chairman of the corn belt advisory committee recently named by the war finance corporation, the governor met three local members of the corporation this afternoon to discuss financial relief.

The governor will propose that representative farmers and bankers be called together with the purpose of arranging loans for the farmers with their corn crop as collateral.

This would enable the farmers to hold their crop until the prices have become stabilized. The governor announced also plans to meet the full membership of the committee in Chicago at the International Live-stock Exposition which opens November 26, advancing the same kind of proposal at that time as aid to farmers of the entire corn belt.

Indianapolis Woman Says They Thought She Couldn't Last Much Longer

"I was in bed so weak and helpless that none of my friends thought I could last much longer; and I don't believe I would, either, if I hadn't gotten hold of this grand Taulae when I did," said Mrs. F. Cook, No. 3, Bungalow Park, Indianapolis, Ind.

"My recovery is all the more remarkable since at my age, seventy, one is not expected to have much power of recuperation. Taulae has done what was thought to be absolutely impossible and I feel just fine now."

"My whole system seemed to give way and I had to take to my bed. I had to be propped up and given the first dose of Taulae, as I was not strong enough to take it myself, but here I am well and strong again. It is simply marvelous."

Taulae is sold in Rushville by F. B. Johnson Drug Co. and by leading druggists everywhere. Advertisement

Apostles of Bad Faith

In the first enthusiasm at the assembling of the arms conference the voices of the doubters and dissenters outside were over whelmed. As the conference settles down to discussion and the inevitable differences of opinion develop, the pack begins to yelp with more hope of being heard. An evil hint appears here as to the animus of some nation or individual; a caviler appears there to scoff by word of mouth or on the printed page at the honesty of the purpose of the entire body or to show with cunning sneers or pessimistic theories that its announced purpose is impossible. When these apostles of bad faith and disbelief begin to disseminate their doctrines it is time for all people who want to live at peace with their neighbors and who believe it can be done to "hold fast to the faith that is in them". The conference was called in good faith. The delegates of the great nations have assembled with the honest intention of making world peace practical. The majority of the people of the world want peace. These are the facts. If the people hold to them, their representatives will hold to them, and the falsities of the cynic and the mischief-maker will be voiced in vain.

Amnesty For War Prisoners

A correspondent tells of asking a high naval officer in Washington what he thought about a pardon for Dobs. He answered:

"Well, it seems to me that the war has been over so long by this time that almost everybody ought to be pardoned. And I think that goes for pretty nearly everybody in the service that I know".

Army men are said to feel the same way about it. As for civilians, there is no question of their attitude. The war has been over technically for four months and actually for three years. Passions have cooled down and the necessity for rigor has passed. Most of the prisoners, soldiers, sailors or civilians, were sentenced to preserve the morale of the army, navy or public in wartime. Peace has its own morale, which demands normal justice, with an admixture of generosity. Those who committed real crimes during the war—deed which would have incurred severe penalties at any time—must have their punishment take its normal course. But most of the war offenses, particularly in the service, were pretty or technical violations of military rule. Is it not time for a general amnesty?

Just when it appears that Lloyd George will be able to attend the arms parley, a new riot breaks out at Belfast.

It doesn't look like Henry Ford would have to get the arms conference delegates out of the trenches by Christmas.

King Alexander of Serbia is completing a new palace, which would seem to be a bad investment in view of the disregard for the rights of kings, which appears to exist in Europe.

TO OUST CONTROLLER

Muncie Ind., Nov. 21.—Because Harry Michaels, city controller, was on a hunting trip last Tuesday and failed to pay interest on a loan of $45,000 for the city which was due on that day, the city council in special session voted that a formal request should be made to Mayor Kelley that he remove the controller from office and an effort will be made to have Michaels pay the interest out of his own pocket.

AMUSEMENTS

Bebe Daniels at the Princess

Every kind of speed—on a side-walkscooter, on horseback, in fast motor cars on land, in faster planes in the air—is used to illustrate the theme of Bebe Daniels' newest Real-art picture, "The Speed Girl", by Elmer Harris, which is showing at the Princess today and Tuesday.

Fortunately, the feature has for its star one of the most versatile girls in pictures. Miss Daniels has been brought up an outdoor girl. Dedicated from her youth to the business of entertaining the public, she had to learn to ride, to drive a car, to dive, swim, shoot, fish and play every sort of game.

Particularly in moving-pictures, an actress never knows when she will be called upon to do any one of these things, and to do it in an accomplished manner. In other words, play has to be an important branch of Miss Daniels' work, and often she has been taking lessons from a tennis champion or practicing strokes with a golf or swimming professional when, if her preference had ruled, she would have been curled up in a corner, reading or—just curled up in a corner!

"It is the age of speed!" says Miss Daniels. "In their entertainment, their sports, their business, even in their love affairs, it seems the American man, woman and child demands over a swifter pace. Make it snappy—get there!" is the universal cry.

"Seriously, we may have to change all this at some not-distant time and modify our speed—put on the brake a bit. But for the present there is no sign of abating, and the moving picture must, if it does anything, reflect life as it is".

"Salvage" at the Mystic

The "big whigs" of society never frivoleed at a more elaborate banquet than that staged for an episode in "Salvage", Pauline Frederick's latest Robertson-Cole production, now at the Mystic Theatre today and Tuesday.

This banquet which is the opening of the story, is given in honor of Cyrus Ridgeway, a retired capitalist, and his bride Bernice (played by Miss Frederick) upon their return from an extended European trip. The scene takes place in the banquet hall of the Ridgeway mansion, one of the most beautiful settings in the production, with its heavily carpeted floor, massive hand-carved walnut furniture, soft grey walls hung with genuine oil paintings, lighted by myriads of tiny lights suspended from the ceiling and projecting from the side-walls. Scores of smartly dressed men and women as guests are seated about a long table, heaped high with pink and white sweet-peas, roses and delicate ferns.

Pauline Frederick is seen in a dual role as Bernice Ridgeway, a splendid type of American womanhood, highly idealistic and passionately fond of children; and as Kate Martin, a woman who follows the line of least resistance, a moral weakling who begrudges the time she must devote to caring for her little daughter and who gradually slides down the social scale until she becomes a drug addict.

SOME DISPUTE ABOUT FORMER

Cornell, Lafayette and Washington and Jefferson Undeclared—Notre Dame Runner-up

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(By United Press)

New York, Nov. 21—Whose who in football is now fairly well established, Penn State in the East, Iowa in the west, California on the coast and Centre in the south.

There may be some dispute about this. Cornell, Lafayette and Washington and Jefferson are undefeated in the east, but they haven't played the schedule that Penn State so far has gotten away with.

Some contend, who have been seen western football that Notre Dame today is as strong as the undefeated Iowa eleven, but the fact remains that Notre Dame lost to Indiana.

The situation on the coast is clear. California is out and out the champion and perhaps the greatest team developed on the Pacific seaboard—perhaps the greatest team in the country.

Georgia Tech may argue over any effort to crown Centre but Centre beat Harvard, Harvard tied Penn State and Penn State walloped Tech.

With the exception of a few scintillated games on Thanksgiving day, the Army-Navy game Saturday and a few intercollegiate games, the 1921 season is over.

If Penn State defeats Pittsburgh
on Thursday the great state team will go against the University of Washington on Dec. 3 as the undefeated king of the east. It is too early to say Washington hasn't a better chance on the coast.

However, an east coast game,
now looms up that should be a treat for the football gods—California against Notre Dame.

Yale was in line for an invitation to go to Pasadena until Harvard downed the blue Saturday.
Now it is understood that Notre Dame which is regarded in the east as one of the greatest eleven of years will be invited to take the game across the continent for the New Year's classic of the coast.
Notre Dame is not against travelling and Notre Dame is proud of that team. If the invitation comes Notre Dame is almost sure to go.

CARTHAGE LOSES ROUGH ONE

Yankee Five Is Defeated at Blue Ridge With Two Regulars Out

The Carthage Yankee Five lost
Saturday night to the Blue Ridge Independents at Blue Ridge, by the score of 36 to 14. The Carthage team was crippled by not having Bertsch and Simmonds in the game.
Carthage had previously defeated
Blue Ridge by a score of 50 to 78, and it is believed that they would have repeated Saturday night, if they had had their regular line-up.
The game was a rough and tumble affair. Carthage will next play the Sandusky team at Carthage on

Locals Make Hit
At Martinsville

The Rushville high school basketball team received nothing but praise from the Daily Reporter at Martinsville, as the result of the game played between the two teams in that city Friday night, in which the locals lost by a 25 to 15 count, after holding the fast team on even terms throughout the game.

The newspaper account states that it was the best game played there in years, and that the two teams are evenly matched. Coach Curtis, who formerly taught in Rushville, also praised the local team, and stated that his team had not been up against such a stiff proposition in two years.

Following are some of the high spots in the account, which show that Martinsville thinks considerable of the Rushville team:

Rushville has a real back guard in Frazer. He is the best that has been seen here in a long time. He has the size, and what is more he knows how to play basketball. It is no trouble for him to get the ball from under his goal and work it down out of the danger zone.

Rushville had more open shots than Martinsville but they were unable to put the ball through the basket with any regularity. Marti-nsville suffered from that trouble to a certain extent, but most of Martinsville's goals were caged under difficulties.

Casady and Sparks, forwards, Hendee, center, and Phillips and Frazer, guards, make a combination for Rushville that will place that team way up in state basketball circles before the season ends. They are a fast bunch to travel after.

A sea-saw game such as that of Friday night with the lead changing back and forth, was the kind that put pep into the fans and made them "root" with all their might.
The game was a thriller and will not be soon forgotten by Martinsville fans.

Hendee and Casady, caged the most goals for Rushville while Hite and Harper had that honor for Mar-tinsville. But the goals made by the other boys helped considerably.

Rushville had the better of Mar-tinsville on free shots, securing three points on foul goals while Marti-nsville landed only one point by that route.

GLENWOOD-WEBB WEDNESDAY

Glenwood and Webb will meet in basketball Wednesday night at Glenwood, and both teams are confident of winning the game. Glenwood has been going good this season, and have hopes of downing their fast opponents, which also have been winning most of the games this year. Glenwood will probably lineup with Vandever and Fielding, forwards; Daily, center; Hinchman and McConnell, guards; the Webb school will also start with the following line-up: Talbert and Hilligoss, forwards; Meyers, center; Hura and Hill, guards.

TO HOLD TO THE ONE GREAT ISSUE

America Has Sharply Called Halt on Efforts to Broaden or Amend Limitation of Armaments

WANT YES OR NO ANSWER

Want Japan and Britain to Stop Naval Competition or State Frankly They Are Not Ready to

By LAWRENCE MARTIN
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Nov. 21.—The United States has served notice that it will hold the arms conference to the one great issue involved—limitation of armaments.

It has sharply called a halt on efforts to broaden or amend that issue. It has demanded that Japan and Great Britain squarely meet questions either by agreeing to stop naval competition right now or by stating frankly that they are not ready to go to that extent in putting a check on the principal cause of war.

This is the meaning of a significant statement made to newspapermen by an authorized spokesman for this government.

If the statement of the American position is not sufficient, Secretary Hughes taking advantage of the dominant position his opening speech to the conference has given him, will plainly tell the conference:

1.—That the United States is not going to dicker, bargain or trade over its proposals for limiting naval armaments.

2.—That the American plan is based upon the principle that the speediest and most certain way to limit armaments is to call an immediate halt in naval competition. Stand Chateaux Cselvs

3.—That the American proposals represent the conclusions of qualified experts and the considered judgment of the American government and are regarded by this government as not only fair, but exceedingly generous.

The Japanese counter proposal is believed to have asked not only for an increase in Japan's capital ship tonnage, but to have stated that in a certain type of vessel of strictly defensive character, Japan wants to approximate the tonnage of the greater navies.

It is now known that this type of vessel was not the light cruiser or the submarine, as was first supposed.

However, what vessel is referred to is still a mystery.
